

EMN Expertise is an independent loss adjustment agency that handles large and high-profile claims and specialises in the higher property segment and in the specialist liability, construction/engineering and marine cargo sectors. With four office locations EMN is a national and rapid response organisation. Thanks to an international network, services are available worldwide.

Working method

The specialists at EMN operate in a broad field, working on behalf of insurers, brokers, underwriting agents, companies and institutions. Specialisation is available in the fields of construction, the agriculture industry, the environment and chemical industry, technology, mechanical engineering, machinery and goods, business interruption, marine cargo and (professional) liability. In the event of claims that require the opinion of more than one expert, this wide variety of specialist expertise combined with mutual cooperation guarantees an optimised, multi-disciplinary approach.

Policy conditions, the cause and nature of damage and the many parties involved make major property damage, liability, CAR and marine cargo claims complex insurance cases. This type of damage requires the use of specialists.

EMN offers the best of both worlds: size and specialisation, and focuses on achieving solutions and clarity. The success of the EMN approach is all down to its fast response, specialisation and personal attention. This manifests itself, for example, in the correct deployment of experts. EMN does not utilise entire teams as standard practice, but mobilises specialists on a targeted basis and with a focus on solutions for the client and the end customer. A customised service, collaboration and the interests of the client are key terms.

“EMN offers ‘the best of both worlds’: size and specialisation. We focus on solutions for the end customer.”

“The success of the EMN approach lies in fast response, specialisation and personal attention.”
